

gemmalondonlife 38m X I tried a treatment called LPG Endermologie which is a device that targets areas of cellulite on the body by using a technology called Cellu M6 to give a sort of deep tissue massage to help smooth out skin

It uses a combination of motorised roll and suction for:

Targetted elimination of fat Natural collagen, elastin and hyaluronic acid production firmer skin

Igalsocholdtelifeearthis nude body suit which I won't show you and honestly no one needs to see that

The treatment lasted for 30 minutes and the therapist said that you don't normally see results until after a few days and a few sessions but I can honestly already see a difference - I get a bit of cellulite on the backs of my legs and it's already smoother
